

BROADCAST JOURNALISM CERTIFICATE: 207

Total Credits: 33

Catalog Edition: 2021-2022

Program Description

(R): 207

This certificate program provides an intensive course of study focused on updated broadcast journalism skills, techniques, and procedures. This concentrated approach can assist those persons seeking first-time employment with a radio or television or web-based news organization, those planning to change careers to a journalism-based field, or those currently working an area of production other than news who wish to upgrade or expand their skills.

Completion of all curriculum requirements will lead to the award of the Broadcast Journalism Certificate. All students should meet with an academic advisor in the Department of Media Arts & Technologies to make an academic plan or discuss career or transfer goals.

Program Outcomes

Upon completion of this program a student will be able to:

- Create professional news segments for use in radio or television, broadcast, podcasts or web streaming delivery.
- Analyze audience data and identify target audiences for various video and/or audio productions.
- Interpret research-based facts available through various sources to prepare and deliver unbiased reports for a variety of media outlets.
- Work with video and computer files in a server-based, collaborative environment.
- Apply correct and safe use of video and audio equipment needed to create professional projects.
