Reflection and Its Application Across the Disciplines

Project Director:

Lucy U. Vitaliti, Ph.D.

Project Starting and Ending Date:

January 1, 2007- December 31, 2007

Brief description of the project:

Dorothy Mitstifer is the nationally known President of National Honors Society Association. She has created Rubric for Assessment of Service Learning Reflection and its application to a variety of disciplines. This project seeks to provide a seminar/workshop of her work to students and faculty interested in service learning and its application to coursework, and meaning-making in and out of their classrooms.

State fundamental need or concern addressed in this project:

Students and faculty unfamiliar with or confused by service –learning and the use of reflection as a tool for students to gain meaning from what they have learned in the classroom, as well as from the out-of-classroom learning that comes from service-learning experiences.

List the project's core goals and/or objectives.

Students and faculty will learn the varied benefits of reflection as a tool for students to use in attaining their course objectives.

An invited group of faculty and students will be engaged in a commitment to attend seminar presenting Dr. Dorothy Mitstifer's work and participate in follow-up activities.

Who will benefit from this project?

Faculty and students who will learn the varied benefits of reflection as a tool for students to use in attaining their course objectives.
