GERMANTOWN CAMPUS

The sprawling, scenic Germantown Campus is located just 30 miles north of Washington, D.C., between Route 355 and Interstate 270. The newest Montgomery College campus, it opened on the current site in 1978. Today the campus serves approximately 5,000 full- and part-time day, evening, and weekend students. Faculty and staff work closely with businesses in the I-270 high-tech corridor, supported by the resources in our newest campus building, the High Technology and Science Center. Together, we tailor curricula and courses to prepare our students to work in this dynamic environment. The Campus has made a special commitment to community use of its facilities, including the library, physical education facilities, and other spaces available for club, association, or civic activities.

The Germantown Campus has four key buildings (the codes that appear in parentheses following the building names correspond to the codes used in the campus map on page 19 and in the schedule of classes).

The High Technology and Science Center (HT) houses 24 classrooms, specialty technology laboratories, teleconferencing studios, computer equipped classrooms, the Globe Hall auditorium with seating for 500, service areas, faculty offices, a Computer Learning Center, and a Mathematics Learning Center.

The Humanities and Social Sciences Building (HS) contains classrooms, the library, MC Books &

More (the bookstore), the cafeteria, the Writing Center, the Child Care Center (licensed to enroll up to 18 children), InTech Media Resources, computer-equipped classrooms, and faculty offices. The library houses a variety of resources that support the curricula and programs of the College, including books, periodicals, videotapes, CDs, and access to the Internet and other electronic and physical resources. An assistive technologies area supports the research of special needs populations.

The Physical Education Complex (PG) includes a regulation-sized gymnasium as well as locker rooms, offices, a weight room, and a swimming pool.

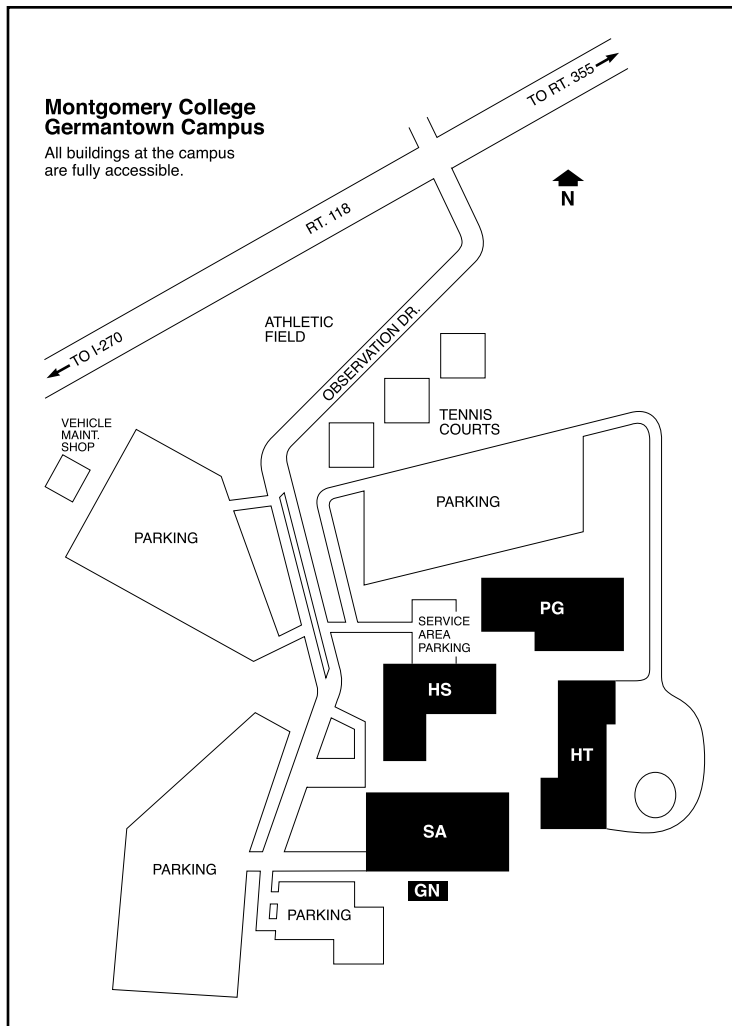

The Sciences and Applied Studies Building (SA) contains the Safety and Security Office, which is open 24 hours a day; the Office of Admissions, Records, and Registration; the Student Financial Aid Office; the Student Success Center; the Counseling Office; the Student Life Office; classrooms; an interdisciplinary laboratory and service center related to the laboratory; the Science Learning Center; lecture halls; computer equipped classrooms; and campus administrative offices.

ROCKVILLE CAMPUS

Opened in 1965 with an enrollment of 2,489, the Rockville Campus is now Montgomery College's largest, with an enrollment of 14,000 full- and part-time students. It is located just north of Washington, D.C., between Route 355 and Interstate 270, and is readily accessible by bus and the Metrorail system. More than 600 courses are now offered in more than 40 curricula. People of all ages take classes at Rockville, and there is a diverse mix of cultures that contribute to the international flavor of this suburban campus. Thousands of Continuing Education students also attend classes at Rockville, and additional tens of thousands of people come to this campus each year for art exhibitions, athletic events, concerts, conferences, lectures, movies, plays, and other events open to the public.

The Campus Center (CC) has MC Books & More (the bookstore), the MC Café, dining rooms, MC Copies (graphics and copy shop), MC Munchies (candy and snack shop), and a recreation center. Also in the Campus Center are Workforce Development & Continuing Education classes and offices, the food management student kitchen, the Marriott Hospitality Center, the Office of Student Life, the Assessment Center, and the Auxiliary Services central offices.

The Child Care Center (CH) is licensed to enroll up to 40 children and is sponsored by collegewide Auxiliary Services.

The Computer Science Building (CS) houses computer facilities and classrooms, InTech offices, and general-purpose computer laboratories.

The Counseling and Advising Building (CB) houses Disability Support Services (DSS), including the Learning Center and DSS offices, and the Safety and Security Office on the first floor; the Counseling/Advising Center, counselor offices, and the Career/Transfer Center are on the second floor.

The Homer S. Gudelsky Institute for Technical Education (GU) is a state-of-the-art technical training facility offering instructional programs in four primary areas: automotive technology, building and construction technology, computer publishing and printing management, and workforce technologies. The facility houses instructional laboratories, classrooms, a conference center, and faculty offices.

The Humanities Building (HU) houses the Writing and Reading Center, Center for Teaching and Learning, an honors seminar room, classrooms, conference room, the Part-Time Faculty Office, Faculty Offices, InTech Offices, general purpose computer laboratories, and the mail-room.

The Interim Technical Training Center (TT) houses two corporate training areas, a machine tool production laboratory, a sheet metal fabrication laboratory, a building and construction laboratory, and classrooms.

The Macklin Tower (MT) contains the library, the Montgomery College Archives, InTech Media Resources, the Math/Science Learning Center, the Computer Writing and Language Laboratory, the Provost's Office, Deans' Offices, and ITV and Media Production Services. The library houses a variety of resources that support the curricula and programs of the College, including books, periodicals, videotapes, CDs, and access to the Internet and other electronic and physical resources. An assistive technologies area supports the research of special needs populations. More information and tutorials are available at the Montgomery College Libraries Web site, www.montgomerycollege.edu/library.

The Music Building (MU) houses a recital hall, a rehearsal hall, practice rooms, studios, special classrooms, faculty offices, and an ear-training laboratory. The building is equipped with pianos, organs, and other musical instruments.

The Paul Peck Art Building (AR) contains classrooms; a gallery; studios for crafts, sculpture, painting, ceramics, drawing, printmaking, and design; and faculty offices.

The Physical Education Center (PE) includes a swimming pool with a separate diving area, two all-purpose gymnasiums, an apparatus room, a weight room, dance studios, faculty offices, locker and shower facilities, and classrooms. Adjacent to the building are the athletic areas for track, baseball, tennis, and soccer.

The Robert E. Parilla Performing Arts Center (PA) has a 500-seat theatre and is the site for both campus productions and community performances. Its design includes 38 line sets, a greenroom, a Bayreuth pit, a lobby gallery, dressing rooms with showers, and a box office. Campus student productions are presented here, as are events in the College's Guest Artist Series and Saturday Morning Children's Series. The facility is also used extensively by the public.

The Science Building East (SE) is equipped with biology, engineering, geology, physical science, and physics laboratories, as well as a number of classrooms. The building has a large lecture hall designed for the use of the latest audiovisual instructional techniques.

The Science Building West (SW) is equipped with biology, chemistry, and psychology laboratories. The building also has a lecture hall, general classrooms, science preparation rooms, and faculty offices.

The South Campus Instruction Building (SB) provides flexible space for classrooms, laboratories, and faculty offices during renovations of other campus structures.

The Student Services Building (SV) contains the campus offices of Admissions, Records, and Registration; Student Financial Aid; Cashier; and Veterans Affairs.

The Technical Center (TC) contains facilities for career-oriented programs such as applied geography, architectural technology, construction management, interior design, graphic arts, computer-aided design and graphics, photography, and television. It also contains classrooms and faculty offices.

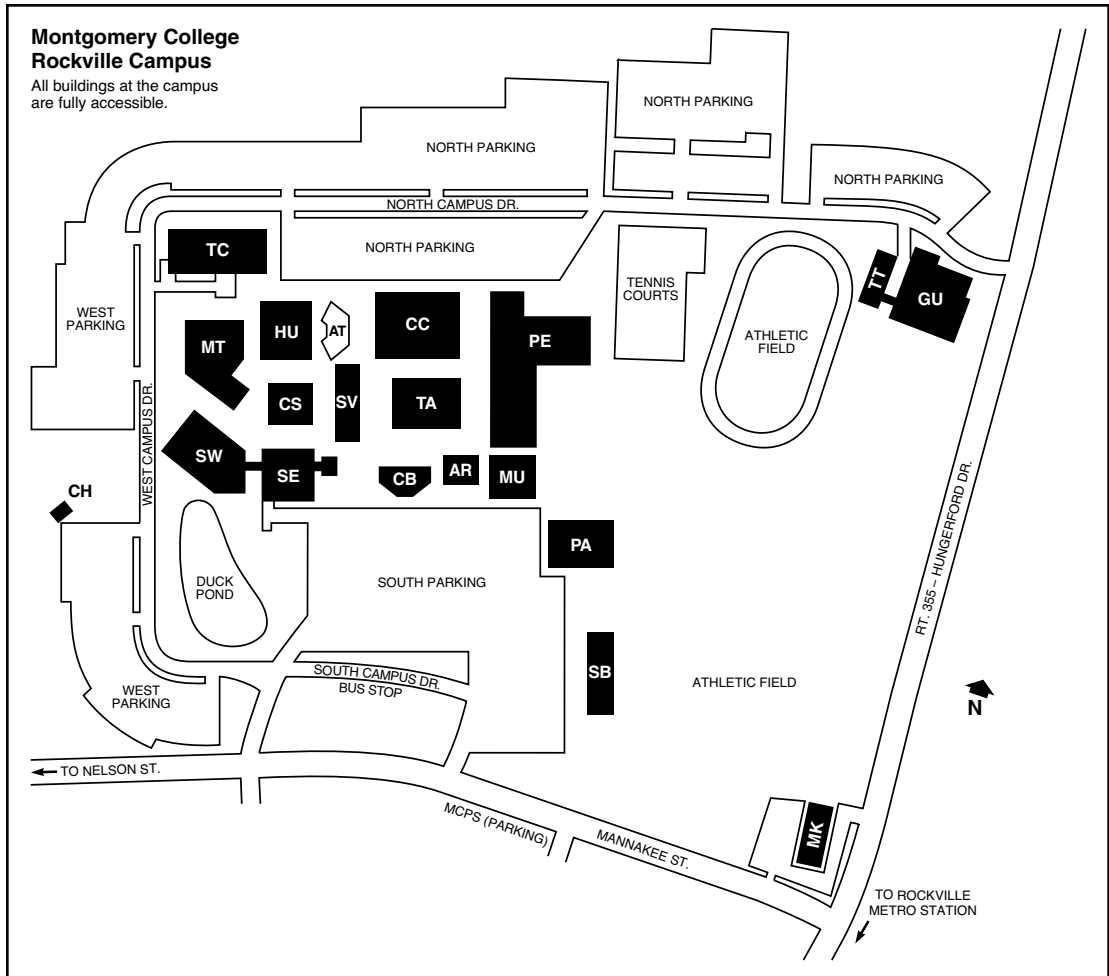

The Theatre Arts Building (TA) contains classrooms, laboratory performance spaces, scenery shop, technical facilities, faculty offices, and stage and arena for academic performances and College activities. Classes in speech, dance, theatre, and American Sign Language are taught primarily in the Theatre Arts Building.

TAKOMA PARK/SILVER SPRING CAMPUS

The Takoma Park/Silver Spring Campus is nestled among charming tree-lined streets and Victorian houses at the edge of Washington, D.C. and is easily accessible by Metrorail and bus. Established on this site in 1950, this cosmopolitan campus now serves more than 5,000 students from over 175 countries each semester and is currently expanding and modernizing its facilities to meet the needs of tomorrow's work force.

The Takoma Park/Silver Spring campus is currently in the midst of a wonderful transformation and is advancing into the new century in a profound way. An $88 million expansion extends the campus into the heart of south Silver Spring, along the Georgia Avenue corridor. In addition to the traditional collegiate offerings in the humanities/social sciences and math/science disciplines, the campus is the headquarters of the College's health sciences program. With the addition of the King Street Arts Center and the Cultural Arts Center, the College will enhance Silver Spring's growing reputation as a destination for arts and entertainment in the down county area.

We invite you to join us as we enhance the Takoma Park/Silver Spring communities by providing top-notch academic and cultural offerings.
