Piano for the First Grader

Students must be presently enrolled in first grade. Children will be introduced to prereading and rhythmic skills through songs, body movement, flashcards, and hand-to-hand playing skills in both large and small motor movements. Beginning concepts in expression, style, and interpretation will be explored. The students' musical vocabulary will be developed. Children will begin to use their creative skills by composing every week. Several songs will be taught by rote. Having a piano at home is not required, but access to an electronic keyboard (full-size keys, five-octave minimum) is strongly suggested. This beginning course is first in a three-level program.
