MONTGOMERY COLLEGE 2018

Board of Trustees Accepts Self-Study

It's here! On Wednesday, January 24, the Board of Trustees accepted the final 2018 Middle States Self-Study report. It was sent to MSCHE and our evaluation team on January 25. You can view the full report by following the link at www.montgomerycollege.edu/middlestates18. You will need your MyMC ID and password to access the report. In addition to the report, the appendix, the documentation roadmap, and the compliance report are available at the link.

The Self-Study is the result of 2 ½ years of thoughtful work by a dedicated committee of over 100 College faculty, staff, administrators, and students. The Self-Study chairs are immensely grateful to the members of this intrepid group who gave so much of their time and talent to the important task of seeking reaccreditation for the College. We also thank the many members of the College community who took the time to read the Self-Study drafts, attend listening sessions, and provide feedback for the report.

What's next? The Self-Study evaluation team visit is March 18 - 21. How can you prepare for the visit? See the information below about briefing sessions starting in February.

Briefing Sessions

The Self-Study Chairs and members of the steering committee will hold briefing sessions at multiple locations to discuss the final report and help the campus community prepare for the evaluation team visit. What can you do to prepare for the visit?

- Read the Self-Study report posted at www.montgomerycollege.edu/middlestates18

- Know the College mission, vision, and values and prepare to:
 - talk generally about the College
 - articulate how you directly connect to the mission in your role at the College
 - answer questions about your experiences at the College
- Know statistics and details about your area of the College
- Place a hold on your calendar for March 18 - 21 so that you can meet with the MSCHE visiting team

In advance of the visit, the evaluation team will inform the College about the groups they want to meet and the locations they will visit, based on their reading of the Self-Study. Additional individuals or groups may also be chosen for meetings with one or more evaluation team members while the visit is in progress - so be prepared.

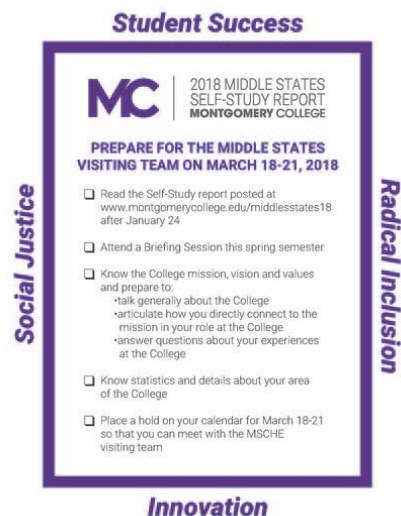

There will be 9 briefing sessions scheduled in February and early March. Below is a list the scheduled briefing sessions:
