

LET'S TALK!:* MONTGOMERY COUNTY'S JOURNEY TOWARD REMEMBRANCE AND RECONCILIATION

The Montgomery County Council established the Commission on Remembrance and Reconciliation to assist in uniting the County. It is made up of leaders from the community who collaborate with the Equal Justice Initiative (EJI), the Montgomery County Lynching Memorial Project, and other stakeholders from the community to commemorate the three locations in the County where racial terror lynchings have been documented.

Engage with us in our Let's Talk! Series to acknowledge, alleviate, and dispel the harms caused by historical racism and discrimination as evidenced in words, acts, and deeds.

Panelists:

Jason Green, Chair, Montgomery County Remembrance and Reconciliation

James Stowe, Director of the Montgomery County Office of Human Rights

Moderated by Sharon Wilder, CEIO
