

OFFICE OF EQUITY AND INCLUSION
SPRING EQUITY DIALOGUE

CRITICAL RACE THEORY PART TWO

Reframing the Criminal Justice System from a CRT Perspective

MODERATED BY SHARON WILDER
Chief Equity and Inclusion Officer
at Montgomery College

OVERVIEW BY DR. KATYA SALMI
Sociology Assistant Professor
at Montgomery College

PANELISTS

ERIC FORD & DR. KELLY QUINN
Director and Deputy Director of
The Choice Program at UMBC

PROFESSOR GINGER ROBINSON
Criminal Justice Professor at Montgomery College

PROFESSOR SONIA PRUITT
Retired Captain of the Montgomery County Police Department and Criminal Justice Professor
at Montgomery College

DR. EMERALD JONES
Sociology Professor at Montgomery College

"Critical race theory is the heir to critical legal studies, which wasn't expansive enough to address the challenges and injustices that people of color faced in this country. It didn't address the complexities of race and racism. Critical race theory is more broad. Its three main ideas are that racism is pervasive; racism is permanent; and racism must be challenged."

— Dr. Traci Dennis
Professorial Lecturer, School of Education, American University

This Spring Equity Dialogue, we will investigate reformed-based policies and practices. What practices can government agencies, schools, and the community implement? Join us to learn how decisions are made and how the public is able to influence those decisions through a racial equity lens.

February 24, 2022
From 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Join us via ZOOM:
<https://bit.ly/CRTPart2>

MC staff can register on MC Learns through Workday.

Please email accessibility@montgomerycollege.edu or call 240-567-5412 in advance for accommodations. Montgomery College is an academic institution committed to equal opportunity.

MONTGOMERY COLLEGE