Synopsis by doc10.org

Directors: Julie Cohen and Betsy West
91 min, US, 2021

"This powerful documentary follows the trailblazer's lifelong moral crusade of social justice litigation and breaking barriers. While enduring poignant personal struggles around gender and racial identity."

"America, be what you proclaim yourself to be!" In the powerful words from Pauli Murray in the film My Name is Pauli Murray. Join the Office of Equity and Inclusion for this special film viewing programming facilitated by Lucinda Grinnell, Director of the WRLC Rockville Campus, at Montgomery College. We will be watching and discussing ideas and takeaways.

Pauli Murray is an extraordinary feminist non-binary Black civil rights lawyer, poet, and priest you may have never heard of. The Office of Equity and Inclusion is looking forward to navigating the life of Pauli Murray in this film journey together!
