

THE JOURNEY TOWARDS Becoming an Antiracist Institution

The Office of Equity and Inclusion will host several training sessions, in-person and via Zoom during the 2023-24 fiscal year. We are expecting to launch an asynchronous module later this year. Please see dates below.

This training promotes social justice, radical inclusion, and racial equity within the College and the broader community, and continues the focus on the journey to being an antiracist institution.

Upon completion of this training, participants will be equipped to do the following:

Define DEI terms (such as inclusion, diversity, equity, access, anti-racism, leadership, social justice) utilized at the College.

Describe how the College is working toward becoming an antiracist institution.

Explain three ways to remain actively engaged and contribute to this initiative.

Describe the relevance of this initiative to your respective role at the College.

Outline three next steps toward continuous learning, taking action, and developing a personalized plan to further the College's DEI initiative.

Upcoming Dates:

September 6th, 10am-12pm

September 7th, 3-5pm

September 19th, 2-4pm

September 26th, 10am-12pm

September 27th, 2-4pm

Remember: This required training needs to be taken only once. If you have fulfilled your requirements during AY/FY23, there's no need to take this course again.
