Guest Speakers

Tonya Baker discussed participating in Germantown's Oktoberfest parade on Sat. Oct. 5. Baker thinks it is a good way to show our community that MC is part of Germantown community.

Jon Pointer highlighted how he is opening HT235 for part-time faculty office space on September 16. It is brand new space where part-time faculty can have their own space as an office and resources like full-time faculty and that students can come to visit them for office hours.

Gretchen Rimkus spoke on the new SA building renovation project and when construction should be completed. Rimkus spoke on uses of the new SA Building and key features. Expected completing in October.

Rebecca Razavi asked if car charges are in the works in the renovated parking. Provost explained that there are conflicts in getting the rights to do so.

Tonya Baker discussed MC's new printing system. The printing system is ran by the company Ink and some faculty were trained to know how to using it so it should not be a problem, people may contact WEPA to possibly get a refund for prepaid cards.

Provost report discussed opening semester, College Equity conferences.

Paul Jenkins began discussions on GT Councils goals for the year; to focus on student issues/needs should be key. Discussion and vote in Oct. GT meetings.
