US Secretary of Labor Tom Perez and US Secretary of Commerce Penny Pritzker visited the Germantown Campus last week and toured a cyber lab and classrooms, visited with students and faculty, and participated in a panel discussion. Their visit provided an opportunity to thank them in person for the $15 million Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College and Career Training grant awarded to a consortium led by the College. Dr. Pollard thanked the Trustees who attended, and members of the College community who worked long hours to make the visit a success.

Dr. Pollard reported that a College delegation accompanied the county executive and a county delegation to India as part of its Sister Cities program last month. The College had the opportunity to renew existing partnerships and established new ones as well, include signing a memorandum of understanding with OP Jindal Global University.

Dr. Pollard reported that the College is very proud of Professor Kenyatta Rogers, who was named Maryland Professor of the Year by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education. The College will honor Professor Rogers appropriately in the coming months.

Dr. Pollard highlighted befitting stories of caring, sharing, and giving in the spirit of the season from the College Bulletin. From the men’s basketball team reading books and playing basketball with kindergartners to faculty and staff teaching the kindergartners how to write poetry, explore art through origami, and how to enjoy the magic of chemistry. Employees participated in the Fifth Annual Employee Arts and Crafts Fair in mid-November where they raised money for the Emergency Book Fund for our students.

Dr. Pollard’s continued focused on closing the achievement gap in her monthly written Focus report took a look at best practices in schools and colleges that are making progress in closing the achievement gap. They are turning the negative connotations of an “achievement gap” into a story of student equity and success. Dr. Pollard reported that some best practices in public schools include detracking, using data to drive individualized and personalized interventions and services, changing curriculum to increase student equity and success, and retention of quality teachers. Dr. Pollard reported that efforts to close the achievement gap are also being made in higher education, and include college readiness protocols, support outside of the classroom, collegewide focus on student success, and a highly structured approach to technology.

Trustee Felton shared his report with the Board. He reported that he provided testimony to the Montgomery County delegation joint priorities on November 19 to ask for continued support for the College, thanked Trustees who attended and the College for supporting the Executive’s Ball, and noted that the College hosted a reception for the Montgomery County delegation on December 8 prior to the house delegation bi-county bill hearing and thanked the Trustees who attended.
