5. REPORTS
A. President’s Report

Dr. Pollard began her report with news of the College’s Clinical Trials Management Program, which graduated 34 students last week and has graduated over 300 students in ten years. This program trains students with existing graduate degrees to manage trials like the ones that we are dependent upon for the COVID-19 vaccine.

Dr. Pollard reported that the Department of Homeland Security was ordered to begin accepting first-time requests for consideration of deferred action protections under DACA.

Dr. Pollard reported that she had a very educational dialogue with the ACLU’s Jeffery Robinson and Congressman David Trone at her Presidential Dialogue, and encouraged everyone to watch the next dialogue with guest, Dr. Travis Gayles, who will talk about Building Racial Justice through Health.

Dr. Pollard then turned attention to her written report, President’s Focus, which centered on academics during COVID-19. She indicated that some of the College’s adaptations position us to compete more effectively in the virtual world. She stated that the College now has a faculty trained in structured remote teaching, which makes them more agile; counselors and advisors who are able to conduct virtual assistance; and technology that is set up for remote connections. In addition, some of the College’s changes—such as the move to more seven-week classes-enable us to better serve schedules that students need.

Dr. Pollard concluded her report by engaging the Trustees in reflection of the following questions:

1. Which of these changes do you think has the greatest potential to be permanent? And why?

2. What challenges do you envision to making the best of these pandemic-response strategies permanent?

B. Chair’s Report

Board Chair Knapp began his report with a summary of the Conversations with Constituents, which were held at the September, October, and November Board meetings. These conversations provided Trustees an opportunity to hear firsthand from faculty, staff, and students about their experiences of teaching, learning, and working remotely during the pandemic.

Board Chair Knapp reported that the Conversations with Constituents will resume in January with community-based guests to speak with the Board about how the county and state are adapting to COVID-19, the economic rebound of the county and state, and their hopes and expectations about the College’s role in that recovery.

Turning his attention to other matters, Board Chair Knapp reported that the Board of Trustees committed to becoming and operating as an anti-racist governance body, which is one of their fiscal year 2021 goals. He encouraged the full Board to participate in the self-guided activities that are identified in the Board of Trustees Anti-Racism Awareness and Understanding Proposal, which was developed and approved by the Executive Committee. Board Chair Knapp stated that the Board’s work in this area will continue at a mid-year retreat, and throughout the year across multiple domains and mediums.

Board Chair Knapp congratulated Trustee Suggs Smith, who was recently appointed to the Member Communications and Education Committee of the Association of Community College Trustees. He also thanked Trustee Brintnall, Dr. Pollard, and Dr. Cain for providing testimony at the County Executive’s Capital Improvement Plan Budget virtual meeting; and he thanked Trustees for attending the Committee for Montgomery Annual Legislative Breakfast on December 11.
Board Chair Knapp concluded his report with news of two upcoming virtual events—the Maryland Association of Community College’s Trustee Leadership Conference on January 25, and the Association of Community College Trustees’ National Legislative Summit in February.

C. Committee Reports
   i. Policy and Governance Committee Report

   Trustee Hoffman, committee chair, reported that the Policy and Governance Committee met on December 2. The committee reviewed its FY21 objectives and the Board of Trustees bylaws at that time. Presentation of the Proposed FY22 Current, Enterprise, and Other Funds Budgets

Dr. Pollard, Ms. Schena, and Ms. Greaney introduced the proposed FY22 Current, Enterprise, and Other Funds Budgets as an information item.

Ms. Schena reported that the proposed FY22 operating budget was developed based on consideration of several current realities, such as the continuing downturn in enrollment and continuing economic uncertainty and volatility.

Ms. Greaney presented details of the proposed FY22 operating budget, beginning with budget development considerations and revenue and expenditure assumptions. She reported that the presented budget anticipates no reduction from the FY21 funding levels of state aid and county support; assumes no increase to hourly tuition and fee rates for our credit students; and estimates a significant use of fund balance to preserve mission and protect employment.
