

Black Diaspora Writing Workshop

Facilitated by Professor Charles Washington and Dr. Sandra Grady

The Black Diaspora Writing Workshop is a meeting place where students come to read, discuss, and write literature of the black diaspora and literature that reflects the black experience. Having more of a book club vibe, students will read a variety of canonical and contemporary literary works (poetry, prose, and non-fiction) by black writers and will engage in robust discussions on the topics of the reading selections and topics of their choice. Students will also reflect on these literary works and topics on a personal level and as they relate to current events and society. Lastly, students will create their own literary pieces that express their thoughts, emotions, musing, and experiences as a person of the black diaspora.

<https://blog.kotobee.com/successful-black-authors/>

Meeting: Tuesdays from 4:00-5:00 pm via Zoom beginning September 14, 2021

<https://montgomerycollege.zoom.us/j/97485807037?pwd=WFE0S3BSZVNfUThaM09yTDJwNDZ0dz09>

Meeting ID: 974 8580 7037

All participants who meet program requirements will receive a stipend, books, and connection to transfer resources and opportunities.

All participants must be current MC students.

Please contact writingcenter.rockville@montgomerycollege.edu for more information

Sponsored by the Writing, Reading, and Language Centers and the Office of Academic Alliances