

Celebrate

Black History Month

with the Writing, Reading, and Language Center
Rockville

Join us for film viewings, discussions, and a contest to win a book by one of these authors

To kick off Black History Month, the Black Diaspora Writers Workshop will hold a viewing of Ta-nehisi Coates' HBO documentary Between the World and Me. Collectively narrated by talented and moving actors and actresses, this film presents snippets of the book in short yet powerful vignettes that reflect and intimate different circumstances of Black Lives Matter. The discussion to follow will include questions surrounding black existence and the black experience. Join us!

Wednesday, February 10th at 5:00 pm

Meeting ID: 988 6157 8308

Passcode: 501986

“Black, lesbian, mother, warrior, poet.”

In celebration of Black History Month, join the WRLC Rockville and Pride + for a viewing and discussion of the documentary A Litany for Survival: The Life and Work of Audre Lorde. Lorde is a celebrated author activist who spoke out fiercely against racism, sexism, and homophobia.

Monday, February 22nd at 3:00 pm

Meeting ID: 913 1583 2717

The Writing, Reading, and Language Center
Rockville

WRL
Center