

Author Chats with Nghi Nguyen
Wednesday, May 13, 12:00-1:00
p.m., Zoom
Register for Event

Join author Nghi Nguyen as he discusses his second short story collection novel, That Missing Piece: A Collection of LGBTQ+ Short Stories.

This collection of LGBTQ+ short stories explores the emotional tapestry of life, woven with tears and laughter, family and friendship, love and loss.

Each story captures the complexity of romance and the universal longing for connection and acceptance. The characters reveal both the beauty and the flaws of being human as they navigate the spaces between family, identity, and love, each one searching for that missing piece in their lives.

You may find yourself reflected in these pages: someone yearning to be understood in a world that does not always welcome difference. Or perhaps you are someone who already knows your worth and walks boldly in your truth, gay or straight.

Above all, these stories remind us that the greatest gift we can offer, whether to ourselves or to others, is love without conditions. Because being accepted is not always the final goal; sometimes, simply being loved for who you are is more than enough.