Call for Proposals

Confluence brings together translators, interpreters, educators, and others interested in the field of translation, including its literary, practical, and philosophical dimensions. The conference offers interpretation and translation-focused workshops and presentations, and opportunities for discussion, networking, career development, and celebration.

Confluence organizers are seeking proposals for presentations and workshops to be held on Saturday, April 4, 2020, morning and afternoon: conference sessions will feature a variety of concurrent workshops and presentations on translation, interpretation, and translation studies. Proposals will be accepted in four tracks:

1. Techniques, practices, and problem-solving in translation/interpretation
2. Business of translation/interpretation
3. Art of literary translation
4. Education in translation/interpretation

Proposals for workshops, panels, or other presentations are to include requirements for room setup and technical needs, if any. Conference rooms are equipped with a computer workstation, USB ports, CD player, internet access, and projection. Presentations should run no longer than 75 minutes.

Proposals are due by, January 31, 2020.

Please submit your proposal online through the Confluence website:

<https://www.montgomerycollege.edu/events/confluence/call-for-proposals.html>

It is expected that proposers will be informed about decisions by Friday, February 14, 2020. For the purpose of achieving a well-rounded conference, the organizers may solicit proposals at any time or may ask proposers to alter or consolidate presentations.

If you encounter any problem with online submission, please contact Jeff Chuang at 240-567-1697 or Jeff.Chuang@montgomerycollege.edu
