Subject: Your Privacy Rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

FERPA affords eligible students certain rights with respect to their education records. For more information, check out this link. (An “eligible student” under FERPA is a student who is 18 years of age or older OR who attends a postsecondary institution.) As an eligible student, your rights include:

- The right to inspect and review your education records within 45 days after the day Montgomery College receives a request for access. You should submit to the College registrar, dean, department chair, or other appropriate official, a written request that identifies the record(s) you wish to inspect. The College official will make arrangements for access and notify you of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the College official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise you of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
- The right to request the amendment of your education records that you believe are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of your privacy rights under FERPA. If you wish to ask the College to amend a record, you should write the College official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record you want changed, and specify why it should be changed. If the College decides not to amend the record as requested, the College will notify you in writing of the decision and your right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to you when notified of the right to a hearing.
- The right to provide written consent before the College discloses personally identifiable information (PII) from your education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. The College may disclose education records without a student’s prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to College officials with legitimate educational interests. College Officials include any persons employed by the College in an administrative, supervisory, academic or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); any person, firm, or company with whom the College has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); any person serving on the Board of Trustees; any student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing their duties.

- A College official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for Montgomery College. Upon request, the College also may disclose education records without consent to officials of another school in which you are seeking or intend to enroll.

As a student, you have the right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Montgomery College to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

U.S. Department of Education
Student Privacy Policy Office
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-8520

See the list below of the additional disclosures the College may make without your consent.

- FERPA permits the disclosure of PII from your educational records, without your consent, if the disclosure meets certain conditions found in Section 99.31 of the FERPA regulations. Except for disclosures to College officials, disclosures related to some judicial orders or lawfully issued subpoenas, disclosures of directory information, and disclosures to you, the student, Section 99.32 of FERPA regulations requires the institution to record the disclosure. You have a right to inspect and review the record of disclosures. Montgomery College may disclose PII from the education records without obtaining prior written consent from you.
- Disclosure may be made to College officials, including faculty, within Montgomery College whom the College has determined to have legitimate educational interests. This includes contractors, consultants, volunteers, or other parties to whom the College has outsourced institutional services or functions.
- Disclosure may be made to officials of another school in which you are seeking or intend to enroll, or where you are already enrolled if the disclosure is for purposes related to your enrollment or transfer.
- As of January 3, 2012, the U.S. Department of Education's FERPA regulations expand the circumstances under which your education records and PII contained in such records—including your social security number, grades, or other private information—may be accessed without your consent. Disclosure may be made to authorized representatives of the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or State and local educational authorities, such as a State postsecondary authority that is responsible for supervising the College's State-supported education programs. Disclosures under this provision may be made, subject to the requirements of the law, in connection with an audit or evaluation of Federal- or State-supported education programs or for the enforcement of or compliance with Federal legal requirements that relate to those programs. These entities may make further disclosures of PII to outside entities that are designated by them as their authorized representatives to conduct any audit, evaluation, enforcement, or compliance activity on their behalf.

- First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or state and local education authorities (“Federal and State Authorities”) may allow access to your records and PII without your consent to any third party designated by a Federal or State Authority to evaluate a federal- or state-supported education program. The evaluation may relate to any program that is “principally engaged in the provision of education,” such as early childhood education and job training, as well as any program that is administered by an education agency or institution.
- Second, Federal and State Authorities may allow access to your education records and PII without your consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when the College objects to or does not request such research. Federal and State Authorities must obtain certain use restriction and data security promises from the entities that they authorize to receive your PII, but the authorities need not maintain direct control over such entities.
- In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, State Authorities may collect, compile, permanently retain, and share without your consent PII from your education records, and they may track your participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about you that they obtain from other Federal or State data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service, and migrant student records systems.
- Provided certain conditions are met that may not be included in the summary below, other exceptions to FERPA’s general consent requirement that permit the disclosure of PII from education records include, but are not limited to:
 - In connection with financial aid for which you have applied or which you received, if the information is necessary to determine eligibility for the aid, determine the amount of the aid, determine the conditions of the aid, or enforce the terms and conditions of the aid.
 - To organizations conducting studies for, or on behalf of, the College, in order to:
 - (a) develop, validate, or administer predictive tests; (b) administer student aid programs; or (c) improve instruction.
 - To accrediting organizations to carry out their accrediting functions.

- To your parents if you are a dependent for IRS tax purposes.
- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena.
- To appropriate officials in connection with a health or safety emergency.
- To a victim of an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or a non-forcible sex offense. The disclosure may include only the final results of the disciplinary proceeding with respect to that alleged crime or offense, regardless of the finding.
- To the general public, the final results of a disciplinary proceeding if the school determines you are an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense and you have committed a violation of the school's rules or policies with respect to the allegation made against you.
- Information the school has designated as "directory information."
- To your parents regarding your violation of any Federal, State, or local law, or of any rule or policy of the school, governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance if the College determines that you committed a disciplinary violation and you are under the age of 21.
