

“I want to respectfully acknowledge the Tutelo and Saponi People, who have stewarded this land throughout the generations.”

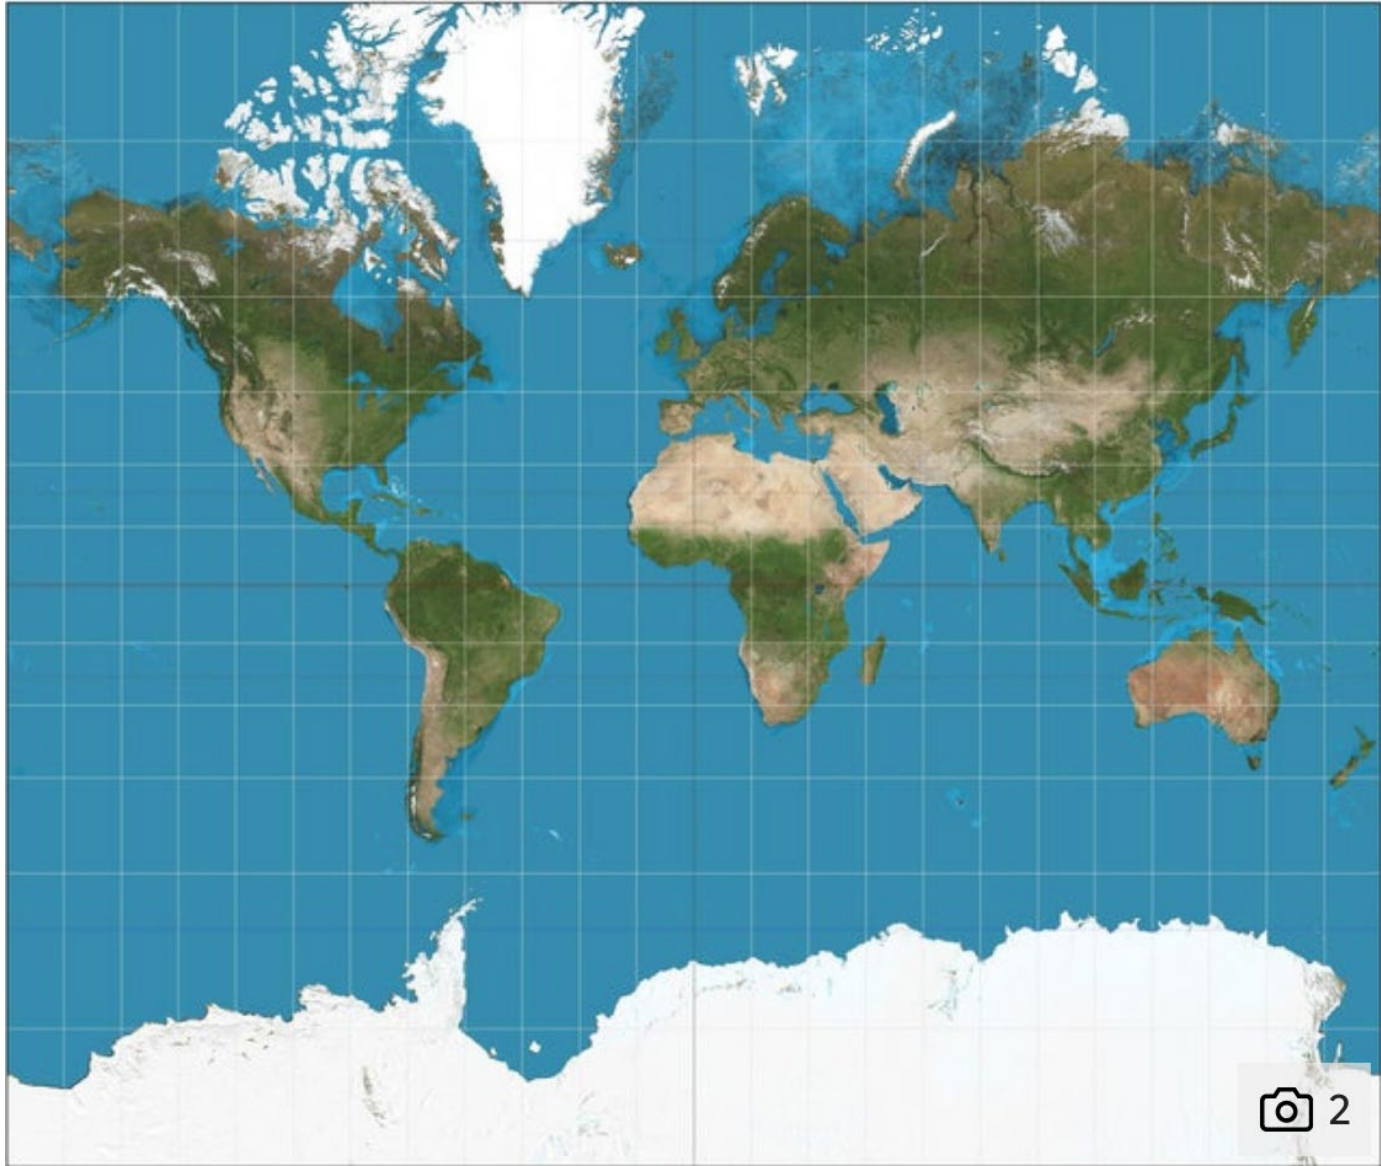

Acknowledgement adopted from the “Honor Native Land Guide (<https://usdac.us/nativeland>)

Decolonizing Pedagogy in Biology

Vedham Karpakakunjaram, Biology Faculty, Rockville Campus

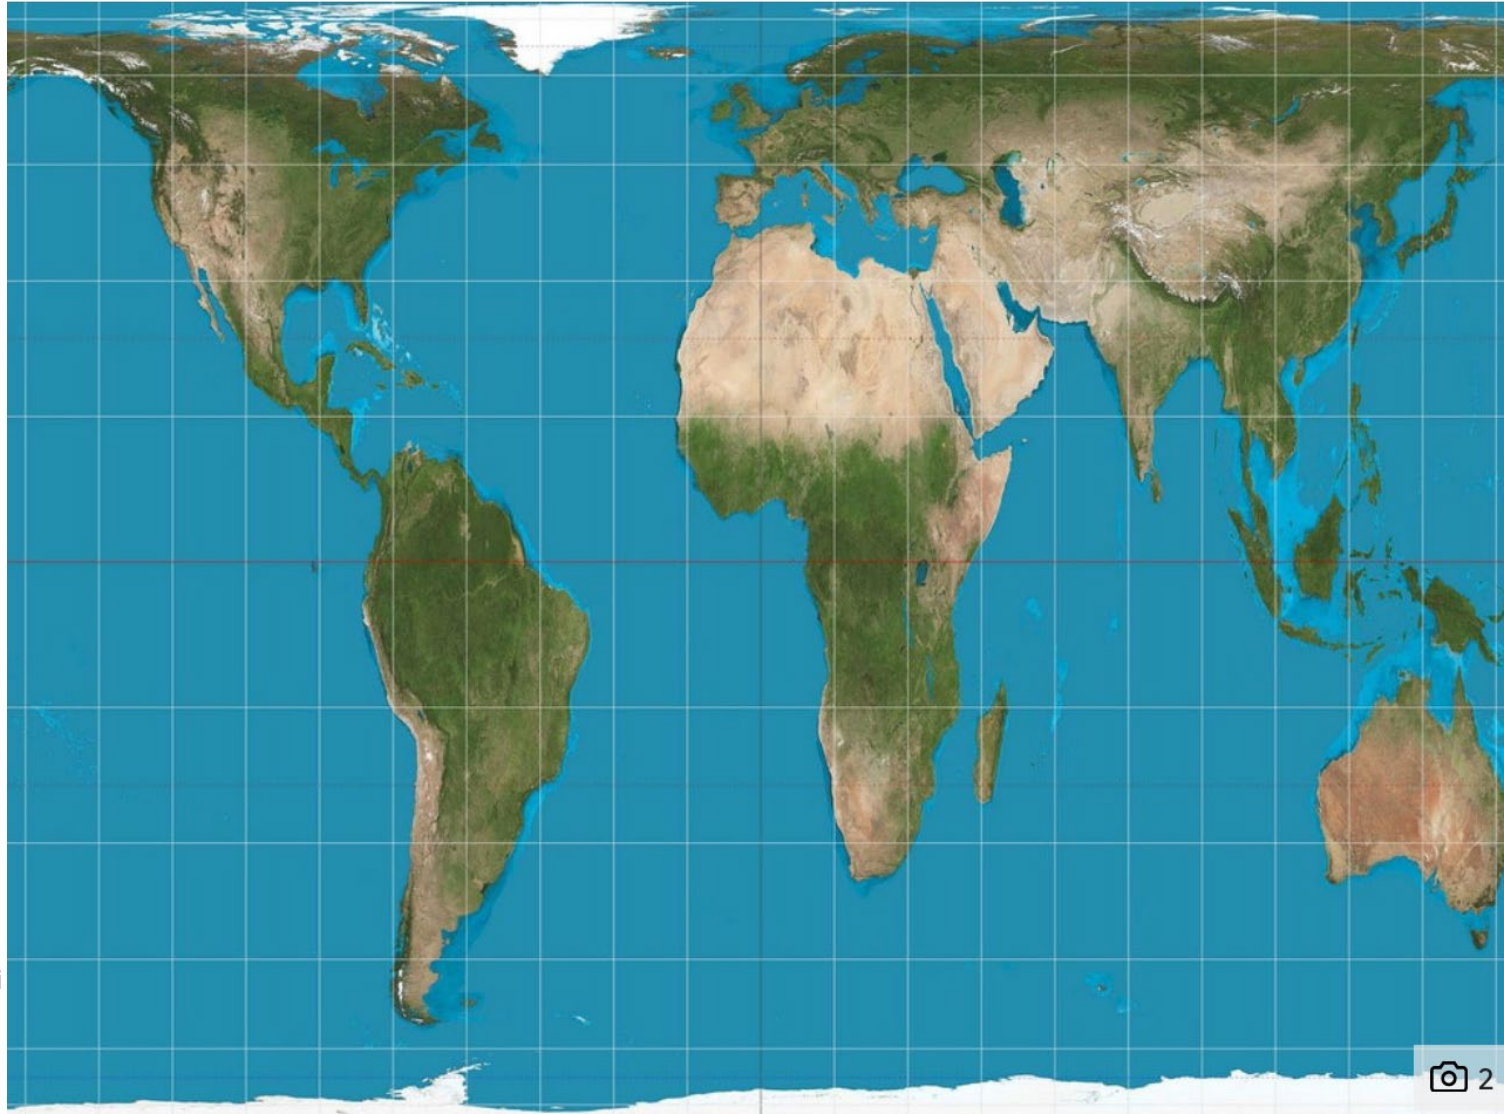

Email: vkarpaka@montgomerycollege.edu

 @vkarpaka

<https://www.independent.co.uk/news/science/world-map-mercator-peters-gall-projection-boston-globe-us-schools-european-colonial-distortion-bias-a7639101.html>

Colonial View: Debunked

<https://www.independent.co.uk/news/science/world-map-mercator-peters-gall-projection-boston-globe-us-schools-european-colonial-distortion-bias-a7639101.html>

Decolonizing Culture in Scientists, not the Practice of Science

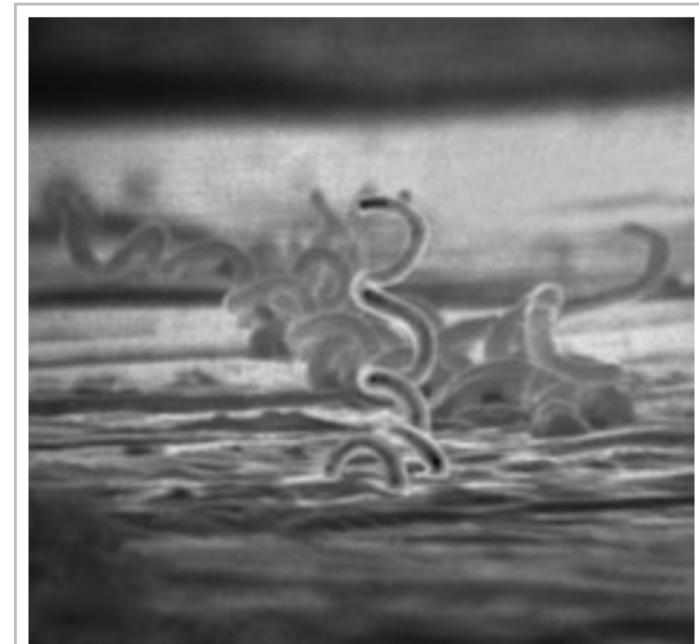

http://s0.geograph.org.uk/geophotos/03/25/87/3258777_15d10c11.jpg

Nobody asked Henrietta Lacks for consent to use her cells in research in 1951 — and, shockingly, consent is still not always required in the United States today. Credit: Jonathan Newton/The Washington Post/Getty

<https://www.nature.com/articles/d41586-020-02494-z>

<https://www.cdc.gov/tuskegee/syphilis.htm>

Dr. Rosalind Franklin's role in discovery of DNA structure

Ms. Henrietta Lacks cells (cancer) used for research without her consent

Tuskegee experiment – medical malpractice