10:00 am-12:30 pm, via Zoom

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Paul Miller

Many of today's students have grown up using internet technology. Their learning preferences have changed and their academic needs are slightly different from previous generations.

Fall in love with teaching again as you discuss the role instructors play in preparing the next generation of workers and thinkers today for their future.

Come and listen to Dr. Paul Miller speak to this powerful topic and discuss these ideas with your colleagues at the 2022 Love of Teaching Conference.

Dr. Paul D. Miller, Director of Professional Development (ELITE)
